WHY LinX LEADERSHIP PROGRAM?

We Develop Leaders

We take a group of participants who live and work in Liberia and help them develop leadership and management skills through structured programming, including: training, experiential learning, casework and group interaction. The benefits to the company are localized training, immediate application of learned skills, and exposure of leaders to a variety of advanced management and leadership skill sets in the corporate setting.

We Impart Knowledge

We provide training and hands-on opportunities, in order for managers and supervisors to cultivate transformative skills and gain experience in developing and implementing leading edge strategies. These tools are used and practiced by experts across many corporate entities. Managers learn about the major issues in key sectors, and companies in the local Liberian and global economy, as well as develop networks for lifetime achievement.

We Match Great People with Great Skills

We provide a variety of skills to incorporate into challenging situations. We engage and inspire middle managers with real solutions for innovation and transformation.

We Inspire Change in Liberian Corporate Culture to Improve Manager Performance

We identify, design, and execute short-term cross-functional projects that have positive and enduring effects on companies operating in Liberia imbuing managers with a sense of commitment and dedication to improving the company and ultimately the bottom line.
